FACULTY CONTROL ORGANIZED ANEW

Instead of Adopting Single Tax, President's Council Creates Representative Committee.

DEAN FRASER CHAIRMAN.

At a protracted meeting of the President's council, covering Tuesday, Friday, and Saturday afternoons, May 25, 28 and 29, after much lively and earnest discussion by the members of the council, it was decided, instead of adopting any recommendation to the trustees in regard to single tax in the University as proposed by the student vote and Professor McNemar for the support of student activities, that a committee on student activities should be appointed which should be truly representative and should take an active part in these activities instead of hearing annual reports and granting annual permissions.

The student vote which was originally taken on the proposition that a compulsory student fee of three dollars annually be established which should cover athletics and the student publications, resulted as stated heretofore in the Hatchet in more than a hundred-to-one vote of about a third of the students in favor of the proposition. The second vote, taken on the question whether a nominal fee be established by the trustees to cover athletics and the Hatchet resulted in about a five-to-one vote in favor of the plan. This data was presented by Professor McNemar to the former Committee on Student Activities, Professor Ruediger, Chairman, Professor Henning and Professor McNemar, together with a recommendation that the committee recommend favorably the plan to the President's council. On motion of Professor Henning, the committee decided to refer the plan on to the council without recommendation.

The new committee on student activities, as provided for by the council's action, will have one representative from each department, each appointed by the President of the University and its officers, a Chairman and a secretary, similarly designated. The chairman appointed is Dean Everett Fraser of the Law School, and the secretary is Professor McNemar.

The committee has appointed subcommittees as follows: one on athletics, one on publications and one on social activities.

The complete set of resolutions covering the action taken is as follows: I. By student activities shall be understood all actions entered upon by individual students or groups of students whereby the name of the University or any of its departments is used or implied (i. e. such as the George Washington University Senior Promenade; the Columbian College Glee Club; fraternities; the University Hatchet, etc.) and which intellectually, physically, socially, morally or financially affects the whole or part of the student body or the University.

II. Properly to direct, control and account for student activities, a committee to be known as the Committee on Student Activities shall be appointed by the President of the University, which committee shall consist of one member from each division of the University the Chairman and the Secretary to be designated by the President. The Chairman of this Committee shall have authority to appoint from time to time such subcommittees of the committee as may be necessary to carry on its work.

III. The Committee on Student Activities, subject to the President and President's council and the provisions of these ordinances, shall have full control and responsibility for all activities in the University.

IV. No student activity shall be allowed in the University unless approved by the Committee.

V. All student activities shall be under the supervision of the Committee and the Committee shall see that they are properly conducted, becomingly carried out and that financial obligations are provided for and met.

VI. Should any student or group of students engage in an activity as defined in paragraph I without consent of the Committee or conduct an activity in an improper manner, or fail to meet pecuniary obligations the Committee shall investigate the matter and render a report and recommendation for action to the President.

VII. The President of the University shall have authority to discontinue any improperly conducted or discreditable activity and to withhold credits, suspend or expel any student or students who institute an activity without authority or who bring discredit upon the University or the student body by failing to properly conduct an activity or meet the obligations incurred and incident thereto.

VIII. The Committee on Student Activities when appointed under these ordinances shall consider ways and means of financial support for athletics, and for the weekly and yearly publications and report to the Council on or before December 23, 1915.

IX. All activities defined in paragraph I, shall be carried on during the session of 1915-16 as in previous sessions but under direction of the Committee on Student Activities.

STUDENT CAMPS NOT TO BE ABANDONED

Comptroller's Decision Will Not Affect the Existence of the Eastern Camps.

The local representatives of the National Reserve Corps, Clarence Rice and Wallace M. Yater have been in receipt of numerous letters and inquiries from George Washington men asking if the Student Military Instruction Camps are to be held this summer, following a recent decision of the Comptroller of the Treasury.

In response to inquiry, Captain Halstead Dorey, Officer in Charge of Student Camps, Eastern Department, states, "The decision of the Comptroller will not affect the holding of the Camps in this Department at least (Plattsburg, N. Y. and Chickamauga Park, Ga., July 5 to August 8)."

For particulars regarding the Student Camps address either of the above representatives of the National Reserve Corps, care of the University or Capt. Halstead Dorey, Headquarters, Eastern Department, Governors Island, N. Y. The Camps combine an enjoyable outdoor life with practical instruction and gives those attending an opportunity to meet college men from all parts of the country.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK HAS FULL PROGRAM

Senior Play to be Headliner of Student Activities.

COMMENCEMENT WEDNESDAY

A glance at the University Calendar on page 2 will indicate to the most sluggish mind that commencement week has drawn a full quota of social events, and the seniors will have enough to do to keep their hands full.

At the ninety-fourth commencement exercises of the University which will be held next Wednesday night at the Memorial Continental Hall, 17th and D Streets, the principal speaker will be Harry St. George Tucker, former dean of the Law School. As usual the Marine band will be on hand to furnish the music. Contrary to the usual custom, student orations will be omitted from the program. The invocation and the benediction will be pronounced by Bishop Harding of the Episcopal Church. The graduates will assemble at 7:30 in the south basement of the Hall in academic dress and march to their places in the auditorium.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, the baccalaureate sermon will be preached at the First Congregational Church, Tenth and G Streets, by the Rev. Jay T. Stocking. The procession of students in academic dress will proceed from the Medical School School Building, 1325 H Street, at 3 o'clock.

On Tuesday night at the James Ormond Wilson Normal School, Eleventh and Harvard Streets, the senior play, "The Conquest of Mother," will be presented by a cast of characters from the graduates. The following is the cast, which will be coached by Miss Alberta Walker:

B. A. Highbrow, known as Bobby
Erwin Harsch
D. O. Wantim, known as Dorothy
Florence Kerby
Mrs. Donot Wantim, mother
Ruth Ayler
Miss Maizie, Secretary to the dean
Helen Cam
Dr. W. Cruediger, a dean
Arnold A. Gladden
Dr. H. Herfeld, a professor
Joseph B. Kingsbury

Students: Elsa Weber, Ella M. A. Enlows, Sylvia J. Hazlett, Frederika Neumann, Mary Tyndall, Louise Worster, George W. Hodgkins, Roger M. Mehurin.

Tickets for the play have been distributed to the seniors. Following the play a time will be set apart for dancing.

Many dances, teas, smokers, receptions, and suppers have been scheduled and will be found in the University Calendar on page 2.

ABOUT THOSE BOUND VOLUMES.

The complete set of Hatchets issued this year, a real memento of the happenings of the year, told in the snappy way that telling them in the present gives, is now to be immediately bound attractively with the University seal in gold and the name of the Hatchet in gold letters. They will sell for $1.50, and should be ordered by mail immediately. All orders should be mailed before commencement to

PAN-HELLENIC SCHOLARSHIP BANQUET THIS AFTERNOON

Women Greeks to Feast Best Students at Columbia Country Club.

At the Columbia Country Club at one o'clock this afternoon the Pan-hellenic delegates of the local sororities will be the hostesses at a scholarship banquet, at which the best students among the women of the University will be feasted.

Miss Genevieve Frizzell, 1914, will be the toastmistress. Owing to the difficulty which has developed in getting the final marks of the students before this afternoon, which was set for the banquet some time ago, the guests will be limited to the Seniors who will graduate with distinction and the highest graded women in each of the four sororities.

SPHINX INITIATION BANQUET TONIGHT

Four to be Inducted Into Mysteries of Women's Honor Society.

The Sphinx Honor Society, composed of the women Nummulites of the University, will tonight hold its annual initiation banquet, receiving into the fold of the organization four of the girls who have been active in University affairs. The test for election is that the candidate shall have been an active participant in university affairs and an able student. The total membership of the active organization is limited at all times to seven, this number being apportioned among the three upper classes.

The initiation tonight will be Mildred Hughes, Gertrude Fogarty, Margaret Knowles and Theodosia Seibold.

Mildred M. Hughes will be a senior next year and is a member of the Pi Beta Phi Sorority. She has been known as one able to be depended upon in student activities.

Gertrude Fogarty will be in the Junior class next session.

Margaret Knowles will be a Senior next year and has been a member of the Girls' Glee Club. She is a member of the Chi Omega Sorority.

Theodosia Seibold will be a member of the Junior Class. She has been during the past year the captain of the basketball team and a member of the Chi Omega Sorority. She has been during the past year the captain of the basketball team and a member of the Chi Omega Sorority. She has been most active in all lines of student endeavor.

RIFLE MATCH JUNE 14.

Ten Days of Practice Precede Intercollegiate Event.

The number of candidates for the rifle team has passed the thirty mark and is rapidly approaching forty. The revival of interest in the sport, predicted in these columns some time ago, is a realization.

Any student of the University is eligible to try out for the team which will represent the Intercollegiate Outdoor Match, upon payment of the regular dues of the Rifle Club to the Treasurer, C. S. Shields, 1119 Eye St.

Practice will start June 5, 4:30 p. m. and will continue every evening until June 14, the day of the Match. Lieut. Albert S. Jones, Secretary of the National Rifle Association, will act as judge for the Match. In order to get to Congress Heights Range, take car marked "Congress Heights" and get off at the far side of the grounds of the Government Hospital for the Insane, walk down road bordering these grounds and turn down first road to left.

TWO HATCHET EDITORS INSTEAD OF THREE

Hance and Davis to Fill the Editorial Sanctum Next Year.

BIXLER BUSINESS MANAGER.

William S. Hance, Jr. and Watson Davis has been made editors of the University Hatchet for next year and John S. Bixler is the business manager. This number of appointments was made with the proposition in view that two full time men could equal if not surpass the editorial product of one full time man and two part time men as was the case this year.

The Hatchet will be published next year in substantially the same form as this year, coming out weekly as a four-page sheet.

William S. Hance, Jr., is a student in the College of Engineering. He was formerly editor of the Tech News, of the Technical High School.

Watson Davis is also in the College of Engineering. He was formerly editor of the Easterner, the monthly publication of the Eastern High School students.

With this journalistic training, the Hatchet next year should be the best newspaper yet issued by the students of the University.

John S. Bixler, the business manager, was this year assistant business manager of the Hatchet, and the Assistant Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association.

None of these men appointed are fraternity members.

THREE DEFEND THESES.

Samuel Palkin, U. G. B. Pierce, J. D. Stout Make Successful Disputations.

The three candidates in the twenty-ninth doctorate disputation of the University, held under the direction of the faculty of graduate studies, Monday, May 15th, were successful.

The candidates, their respective theses, and the faculty members before whom they spoke, follow:

Thesis, "Investigation of the Halogen Derivatives of the Pyrazolones and the Determination of antipyrine in mixtures," by Samuel Palkin, Ph. B., 1910, Yale University; M. S. 1913, George Washington University; before Chase Palmer, chemist, United States geological survey; George Sarton, formerly of the University of Ghent, editor of Isis; Campbell Easter Water, chemist, bureau of standards, and Edwin Allston Hill, assistant professor of chemistry, presiding.

Thesis, "The Faith of a Stoic," by Ulysses Grant Baker Pierce, B. D. 1890, Hinsdale College, A. B., 1909, D. D., 1909, George Washington University; before William Macon Coleman, philosopher; Rev. James Stephen Lemon, former chaplain English Episcopal Church in Leipzig; Andrew Wilson of the Washington bar and Edward Elliott Richardson, professor of philosophy, presiding.

Thesis, "Studies of the Functions of the Cerebral Motor Cortex of the Cat," by Joseph Duerson Stout, A. B., 1910, M. D., 1913, A. M., 1914, George Washington University; before D. Percy Hickling, professor of nervous and mental diseases, Georgetown University; John Broadus Watson, professor of psychology, Johns Hopkins University; Thomas D. Woodson, captain, Medical corps, U. S. A., and Shepherd Ivory Franz, professor of physiology and experimental psychology, presiding.

THIS YEAR.

Regardless of what the readers think about it, we come to the end of the year with a feeling of regret at being required by the laws of time and fate to give up the editorial chair which we have held this year. This is all the swan song we shall give. The work has been hard but pleasant, and the editors have liked to regard the publication of this sheet as a way of talking to the many members of a big family. We have no doubt that next year's close will find that, in the hands of the new men, a more successful year journalistically has been spent, and we wish the new staff Godspeed.

Athletics this year have been a real success and although we do not have a championship with which to worry ourselves, our men both in basketball and in track finished a very creditable season. A financially successful season was due directly to the efforts of Professor McNemar and the able assistants whom he had to help him. A howlingly successful track meet was also the child of his genius.

The Girls' basketball team has been the biggest thing around the University this year. Aside from one game lost by two points on a foreign floor at the opening of the season, they have been victors in every contest of the year, and are easily the champions of the South Atlantic section.

The Hatchet, as promised in the first issue, was published twenty-eight times during the year, and came through with no financial loss whatever. It has been prompt with the news on all occasions, and its subscription list has surpassed all previous Hatchets.

Although the Cherry Tree was not published, three separate yearbooks were issued, the "Periscope" for the Arts and Sciences Department, "Res Gestae" for the Law School, and the "Caduceus" for the Medical, Dental and Nurses' Training Schools. These books are all issued promptly and in good order, and were all successful financially.

The Freshman Prom held this year, followed the example of its preceding class in leaving a cozy wad of creditors haunting the University. A fruitless agitation was started to pay off the debts of the two years, which together made up about one hundred fifty dollars.

The Association of Class Presidents while not waking entirely from its lethargy of recent years, however, gave signs of being alive and instituted the search for the single tax, which was pursued relentlessly by Prof. McNemar.

The facts of the last two paragraphs were potent in rousing the faculty finally to some definite preventive and constructive measures, which are to be brought about by the workings of the new Committee on Student Activities.

The interests of the Chemical and Engineering Societies have been unusually bright and active this year, the friendly rivalry between the two organizations, serving as a stimulus to greater endeavors. Many valuable and instructive trips were made and lectures heard by the members of these organizations.

The two Glee Clubs were revived, with the institution also of a stringed instrument club among the men.

The Legal Aid Society, which was organized last year, reported up to about a month ago a total of 83 cases handled.

This year saw the largest registration the University has ever had, the number being in the vicinity of eighteen hundred. For the first time in six years athletic relations were had with our rival Georgetown University.

The Interfraternity Association ran off a lively interfrat. bowling match series.

The Hatchet raised about $250 for Belgian relief.

A University Orchestra was organized and creditably operated.

No intercollegiate debating was indulged in.

Altogether, no one can think for a moment, that it was in any way an unsuccessful year, but one of which we are justly proud, and which we hope will be surpassed next year.

NOTICE.

The carelessness of someone, who has accidentally removed a textbook in Zoology I (Parker and Haswell's Textbook of Zoology, Vol. I) and a looseleaf notebook in the same course, containing pencil and ink drawings covering over a semester's work in invertebrate zoology, has resulted in the fact that one of the editors of this paper, who owned the books, will be required to repeat all the work missing or lose credit for an entire year's work. The owner will greatly appreciate and justly reward anyone returning the books or giving information leading to their recovery.

DENTAL PROFESSOR.

Dr. Golden, '14, Succumbs to the Marriage Fever.

Dr. Bernard Braskamp, pastor of Gurley Memorial Church, officiated at the marriage last night of Miss Sue M. McChesney, and Dr. Edward Earl Golden, a member of the dental faculty of George Washington University which took place at the home of the bride's parents, 1458 Harvard Street in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends. The rooms were prettily decorated with white peonies and palms.

The bride wore a gown of white satin veiled in duchess lace, with a long court train. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

A reception followed, and later Dr. and Mrs. Golden left for their wedding trip. Mrs. Golden wore a traveling suit of blue taffeta with hat to match.

The out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Edmonston of New York and Miss Margaret Filbert of Womelsdorf, Pa.

COLLEGE ANNUAL ASSOCIATION

CONVENTION, JUNE 14 TO 18.
Yearbook Writers to Meet at Hotel Biltmore, New York City.

Owing to an increased number of meetings, lectures, and entertainments, the committee in charge of the Convention Program of the College Annual Publication Association have decided to hold the Convention for two additional days. This means that the Convention will be held for five days, from June 14, to June 18. The announcement of this Convention has created a great deal of interest throughout all the Colleges, and the Committee has received many enthusiastic promises of support.

BECOMES A VICE CONSUL.

Eugene C. Harter, G. W. U. Graduate, to Serve in Germany.

Eugene C. Harter, graduate of the class of 1914 of the arts and sciences department, has been appointed vice-consul of the United States at Brunswick, Germany, and leaves today for his post.

Shortly before receiving the degree of bachelor of arts from the University last spring Mr. Harter took the consular examination, making a high record. He was appointed a consular assistant and detailed to work at the State Department. Several weeks ago he was made vice consul and assigned to the German post.

CADUCEUS OUT LAST WEEK.

Collins and Folsom Bring Out Successful Medical Annual.

James H. Collins and J. E. Folsom, Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager of "The Caduceus" last week published the yearbook of the Medical, Dental and Nurses' Training School on May 28.

The 194-page volume is attractively bound with blue cloth or limp blue leather and the cover is embellished with the seal of the University in gold. "The Caduceus" is dedicated to the memory of the late Dr. A. F. A. King and contains a complete history of his life. One of the features of the book is a most interesting and excellent "Historical Sketch of the George Washington University Medical School" by Henry Knox Craig, M. D. The picture and biography of each member of the faculty of the three schools appears, as do the pictures and biographies of the students. Freshmen, sophomores and juniors are given write-ups as well as the seniors and these vary from prose to poetry. Three or four original poems appear and the usual space is given to fraternities and teams. Jokes and other humorous writings are bright and snappy. A "Memories Department" is an excellent feature.

The illustrations, exclusive of the individual pictures, include 22 photographs, five of them being full page, fifteen cartoons and many other drawings. There are six pages of advertisements.

Three hundred and fifty books have been printed and it is understood that the Medical School intends to distribute twenty-five or more copies among the various preparatory schools of the country. The work is a financial success and is a splendid example of what combined effort and school spirit will do.

ENGINEERS HOLD SMOKER.

The final smoker and jollification and smoker for this year of the Engineering Society was held on last Wednesday night at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house, 1700 Fifteenth Street. A large turnout was had and a general good time was the lot of each guest.

The Prize Winner will be announced June 15

The $500 Fatima Ad-Writing Contest Closed June 1

Twelve hundred and sixty-seven advertisements were received. Students in sixty-eight colleges participated.

Sixty-nine of the ads. submitted were published. For each of these the writer was paid $5.

Twice during the season the published ads were published in portfolio form and mailed to contestants, so that each man interested might see what others were doing.

During the entire contest interest never waned. Up until the last day every mail brought new evidence that the Fatima Contest had struck a popular note. The response has been more than gratifying.

We know you are anxious to know the winner. And we know, too, that every college man is sportsman enough to wish the best man to get the prize.

With so many contestants, and such a mass of material to consider, to select the prize winner is not an easy task. The decision should not be made hurriedly. So we ask your indulgence until June 15. This will give the judges time to do justice to every contestant.

The name of the prize winner, with the name of his college and his year, will be published in college publications issued after June 15. If possible, we will publish the prize winning ad.

Any college man, whether a contestant or not, who does not see the published announcement can learn the name of the winner by addressing an inquiry (after June 15) to Mr. Richard Brooks, care of

NEW TEXTBOOK ON EXPLOSIVES ISSUED

Dr. Munroe and Dr. Kibler Translate Dr. Brunswick's Book.

Dean Charles E. Munroe and Dr. Alton L. Kibler, both of the George Washington University, are joint translators and annotators of Dr. H. Brunswick's "Explosives" recently issued. Dr. Munroe, in addition to being on the faculty of the University, is widely recognized as one of the world's leading experts on explosives, while Dr. Kibler recently received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University. The work is a synoptic and critical treatment of the literature of the subject as gathered from various sources. It treats of the theoretical and experimental nature of explosives as a class, as well as the characteristics of particular explosives.

NEW MILITIA HEAD A G. W. U. ALUMNUS

Col. Wm. E. Harvey, '93, Appointed Brigadier-General in Command of National Guard.

Col. Wm. E. Harvey, who was last Saturday recommended by the Secretary of War to the President for appointment as Brigadier-General in command of the National Guard of the District of Columbia, graduated from the George Washington Law School in 1893. The next year he took his master's degree in law.

Col. Harvey entered the guard December 1, 1890, as a private in the then Engineer Corps. In 1893 he reenlisted for three years, and December 20 of that year was appointed acting first lieutenant and quartermaster of the Engineer Corps. He was appointed acting first lieutenant of Company A, Engineer Corps, June 5, 1895, and March 26, 1897, was appointed acting captain of Company C, 2d Separate Battalion. He was appointed captain of the same company May 4, 1898, commissioned major of the 6th Battalion July 20, 1899; lieutenant colonel of the 2d Infantry, April 5, 1909, and colonel September 30, 1910. He has been particularly interested in the rifle practice, having served as captain of the brigade rifle team for several years.

Col. Harvey has also taken a leading part in the effort to secure legislation providing an armory for the National Guard of the District of Columbia.

DUM DUMS AND SHRAPNEL.

By T. S. D.

We understand, dear reader,
Why you should shed a tear;
But maybe you'll persuade us,
To write this stuff next year.

We've PUNCHED this old Underwood so many times that it has puns in its makeup.

Last night it slipped; instead of saying Periscope it murmured "Par-is-dope."

Which isn't a bit funny, but it takes up six lines; and this takes up three more.

WOE IN THE BOTTLE.

Wherever there's trouble, wherever there's weeping, wherever the vultures of grief are alive; wherever sad women their night watch are keeping, and waiting for footsteps that do not arrive; wherever there's squalor, there's famine, if you would discover to what it's all due, it's idle the records to deeply examine—just search for the bottle, and you'll find a clue.—Walt Mason.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE

Mr. Mary E. Tomlin, of Capitol Hill, announced the engagement of her daughter, Josephine Marie, to Mr. Charles A. Burmeister, son of Judge Frank N. Burmeister, of Texas. The wedding probably will take place this month.

On Monday afternoon, June 7th, Ruth Ayler will entertain the Girls' Glee Club at her home on Capitol Hill.

TEACHERS' COLLEGE.

Among the students expecting to take summer courses at the various colleges and universities are Miss Ethel Summy, Miss Kroes Ficklin and Miss Mary Evelyn Steger at the University of Virginia, Miss Dorothy Kalb will attend Cornell, and Miss Dorothy Hellman expects to go to Columbia.

Miss Helen Cam was recently appointed to a Fellowship at Gallaudet College, where she will take the normal course, to specialize in the training of the deaf and dumb.

Mrs. Bessie Boyd Mulford returns again to her post of instructor in primary education at the summer session of the University of Tennessee.

Miss Marietta Stockard is collaborating with Dr. J. Berg Esenwein in a book on the art of story telling.

Miss N. E. MacFarlane will leave for California immediately after the closing of college to attend the Sigma Kappa convention at Berkeley and the San Francisco exposition. She plans to remain on the Pacific coast all summer.

Arnold Gladden recently met with an automobile accident in which he sustained an injury to his right arm.

Among the Teacher's College students who will take part in the senior play are Miss Florence Kerby, Miss Helen Cam and Miss Louise Worster. Miss Alberta Walker is acting as coach.

Miss Marietta Stockard will conduct the demonstration kindergarten class and give a course in story telling at the coming summer session of the University of Virginia.

Dean Ruediger will remain in Washington for the summer.

MEDICAL SCHOOL.

The Dean and Mrs. Cline Borden will receive the graduating classes of the Medical and Nurses' Training School this afternoon.

The box holders at the theatre benefit of the George Washington University Hospital were Miss Bessie Kibbey, Mrs. Mackay-Smith, Mrs. William Cline Borden, Mrs. Charles W. Richardson, Mrs. D. K. Shute, Mrs. A. Lissner, Mrs. Denny, and Mrs. Ewing. Mrs. William Cline Borden was chairman of the committee in charge of the affair.

LAW SCHOOL.

Frank Jones of the Senior class in the Law School and Acting Secretary to the Federal Trade Commission has gone to the hospital suffering with stomach trouble.

Paul Orr of the Class of '14, who was carrying post graduate work this year has resigned his position as Special Agent in the Federal Trade Commission and gone into active law practice in the city of Detroit.

James W. Barrett, '15, is the President of the Association of Young Republicans of Missouri.

The commencement announcement has been given out of Miss Marietta H. Worster, Cornell, 1915, and Mr. Andrew C. Williams, New School, 1915.

WITH THE GREEKS.

The founder's day celebration of Epsilon Chapter of the Sigma Chi Fraternity, the fifty-first anniversary of the establishment of their chapter will take place June 10, and will be held at the fraternity's new quarters, 1327 15th Street, northwest. The older members of the fraternity usually make the celebration a sort of reunion. In recent years it has been one of the big events of the year. An entertainment along unusual lines has been planned, and from indications the celebration will be more enjoyable than ever.

On Thursday evening, Miss Edith Blinston Lowe entertained at her home of the members of the Sigma Kappa sorority.

Miss Eva Kelley, '13, entertained Sigma Kappa and some of its friends at a party in her home at Takoma Park last night.

The past month has seen several very enjoyable functions at Phi Sigma Kappa's new home, 1916 Sixteenth Street. On May 8 the chapter held a dance that taxed the floor capacity of the house, about 25 couples having been present. The visitors made good use of both the reception hall on the street floor and the entire parlor floor in dancing.

On the 15th the chapter's official housewarming brought a gratifyingly large number of old grads around. The smoker was an unqualified success. One of the features of the evening was a short burlesque sketch by the eleven men who have been initiated during the past school year. The laughs engendered by their fun served a good purpose in helping to furnish an appetite for the refreshments which followed.

On May 16 a tea was given which was later said by several of those present to have been one of the most successful seen in Washington for some time. A conservative estimate of the number of guests honoring the house was given as not less than 150. The committee in charge was given some very well deserved words of praise for their efficiency throughout. Another dance was held on May 22 which lasted well into the evening. The attendance was large and everyone present showed unmistakable signs of keen enjoyment.

The Phi Mu Fraternity announces the pledging of Josephine Marie Jonas on Monday, May 31.

Miss Shirley Henderson entertained the Phi Mu Fraternity at tea, on Thursday, June 3.

Annual memorial services of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity were held at All Souls' Church last Sunday morning, the observance being in charge of Chi Deuteron Chapter and the Washington Graduate Association of the fraternity.

The principal address was by Rev. J. MacBride Starrett, rector of the church, who is a member of the fraternity from Rochester University, class of '67. His subject was "The Memorial Sentiment." Other addresses were by Dr. J. Wightman, Washington and Jefferson, '68, and Dr. George Williamson Smith, Hobart College, class of '57.

The choir of All Souls' church furnished the music, a special solo, "Crossing the Bar," being sung by Edwin Callow.

Several hundred members of the fraternity attended the services.

UNIVERSITY HISTORY DISCUSSED

Admiral Stockton Delivers Paper at Columbia Historical Society.

"The Founding and Early History of Columbian College" was the subject of a paper by Rear Admiral Charles H. Stockton, president of the University on April 20th at the 151st meeting of the Columbia Historical Society in the banquet hall of the Shoreham. Admiral Stockton told of the gift of George Washington to a national university in 1795, and other attempts at the establishment of a university in Washington. He sketched the subsequent founding of the Columbian College in 1821, telling of the additions to and the work of the various departments and of the succession of presidents during the following years, and the circumstances of the change in name from Columbian University to George Washington University in 1904.

Lawyer's clerk—"Will you have a chair, miss?"
Boston girl—"No, thank you; I wouldn't know what to do with it. But I'll sit down, if I may."
